

Who We Serve

Compass Community Services, Inc., serves individuals and communities who are ready to move from potential to progress. Our programs are designed to support people across the continuum of economic participation, from skill development and workforce readiness to entrepreneurship and business growth.

Aspiring & Early-Stage Entrepreneurs

We support individuals with ideas, side ventures, or early-stage businesses who need structure, education, and strategic guidance to build viable, sustainable enterprises. Our approach helps entrepreneurs strengthen their foundations, clarify their vision, and translate ideas into long-term impact.

Workforce Training Participants & Job Seekers

We serve individuals seeking pathways to employment through workforce training, career readiness, and practical skill development. Our programs focus on building competencies that align with today's workforce demands while supporting participants in navigating systems, opportunities, and next steps with confidence.

Individuals Seeking Skills Development

We work with community members who are looking to strengthen essential skills that support economic mobility, stability, and independence. Through accessible education and guided support, we help participants build the tools needed to participate more fully in the workforce, entrepreneurship, and community life.

Underserved & Aspiring Communities

Across all programs, Compass Community Services prioritizes underserved and aspiring individuals who face systemic barriers to opportunity. We are committed to expanding access to education, workforce training, and strategic guidance that fosters long-term growth, resilience, and sustainable impact.

Our work is rooted in the belief that when people are equipped with the right skills, guidance, and support, they can build pathways that strengthen not only their own futures, but the communities around them.
